“ I know a lot of people will say they know how you feel and you'll think no you don't! But I actually do know how you feel! I lost my 11 month old baby girl Reign January 2nd of this year and everyday gets worse for me so I am not going to lie to you and tell you with time it gets better because it doesn't! Every day it will be like it happens all over again in your mind! I can't give you any positive guidance because I don't have any for myself accept to make sure both you and the child's father seek grieving counseling together and separate and to also see a psychiatrist to be given prescription medication to keep you calm and antidepressants because you can not deal with it mentally if you don't! I'm praying for the both of you so hard and it breaks my heart that you all have to go through this pain that I do with the loss of my daughter! I know that God takes his precious angels that was to pure for this earth too soon and I still can't deal with it but just know that your family/friends will be there for you so please let them be! Most importantly be there for each other during this tragic time because you all need one another the most right now and God! I am so so sorry for the loss of your son! My deepest sympathy for you all! Rest In Heaven Giovanni Manuel Pardo say hi to Debra Reign in Heaven from her mommy and daddy and tell her she is so very missed and loved and will never be forgotten!!
