“ I didn't know you very well, though we chatted for hours over the net, and I only met you in person a time or two. But when we did talk you always had a way to make me laugh in times when I wanted to break down and cry...you were always such a cut up, such a happy soul.....R.I.P my friend, wish I could have gotten to know you better. I'm sure we'll meet again on the other side of that rainbow bridge.Your family will be in my prayers.

“ I met Tiny throwing darts after I moved to TN. He is one of the sweetest and genuine people I have met. I enjoyed the 4 years or so that I got to share with him throwing darts. My prayers are with the family as you go through this loss. Please take comfort in knowing he touched many hearts and will be greatly missed!!

“ You touched a lot of hearts during your short time with us. I was friends with you for years before I ever knew what your real name was. It also never even crossed my mind of why the the heck everyone called you Tiny. I guess I just saw you as a true friend and it never occurred to me what the reason for that was. You will be missed by a lot of us that were around you every day and those like myself that moved away and held on by memory. Keep peace with the angels and I will see you later on the other side.

“ I don't even know where to begin. I met Tiny my Junior year of High School (not really in a good way, but ya gotta start somewhere). We soon became very close friends... more like my big brother. You were always brutally honest. Not that I actually listened most of the time. You introduced me to the "Boat Ride" by Jay Hickman, the Easter Bunny Died song and who could forget the Wide Mouthed Frog. You scared the poo out of me on our "Haunted House" searches. I wouldn't change any of it for the world. My prayers go out to your family (especially those nephews that you dearly loved) as they lay you to rest. I know Duck & Brian were waiting on you with open arms. Fly high Tiny...
