“ So sad as we think of all the memories we shared with Bruce. So many funny stories as we thought back last night of years past. He shares a birth date with David so guess they celebrated many of those together. His wedding day came to mind, when he came to the house to get someone to tie his tie. The puppy he insisted we take when we didn't want a puppy who looked not too bright. We named him Socrates and yes we kept him til he decided he liked his former home better. And that is another story. His excitement when Erin was born!! So many years of memories. I was so happy to know that Bruce had found Christ and was happy in his church. Many prayers for him. I want the family to know we loved him and now share in your grief. May God hold each of you in His hands and bring you comfort and peace. Love, Freda Kinser Blair
