“ She's a beautiful person , I have this memory i'm going to share with everyone, even tho the distance came between us' she was always in my thoughts, she gave me this glass Angel with a poem, and the poem says... BEST FRIEND'S ANGEL..... YOU ALWAYS KNOW JUST WHAT TO SAY, TO SHOW HOW MUCH YOU CARE, THIS ANGEL KEEPS MY BEST FRIEND SAFE, SHE'S WITH YOU EVERYWHERE. I still have it, and it's sitting in my living room and has been since the day she gave that to me :) Carmen is the one who brought my husband and i together, we will always remember her for that, Carmen was a head strong woman, and she always knew just what to say or do , but she was also the kind of person you could talk to and she would listen, then give you that straight up answer rather it was good or bad. She was a blunt woman, and never held back anything. I watch her children grow up to adults, I watched her joy when she became a granny:) she was a proud momma and granny for sure, May you rest in peace Carmen, and feel the greatness of our Lord's Kingdom, and look over everyone.

“ As a younger child, my Granny always had a reason for saying no, but she always had a reason for why she said yes as well. Every situation I'd come to her for advice about, she'd tell me a story with the moral being of relation to the predicament. I remember telling her how special she was or going into her room and telling her how much I loved her and she'd ask what I wanted. I'd say nothing granny and carry on with her. I remember telling her she'd live to be 100 easily. She was my world and all I can do now is wait to see her.
