“ Daddy, until now I've avoided funerals. Jases friend passed away and he said he needed me to go as support. I'm scared Daddy that it would bring back memories. Well I haven't gotten there yet and I already have memories. God, Daddy I miss you. I wish you were still around I need my rock because so far I've failed to be the rock for my household. I miss you daddy. I was already an adult when you passed but I still don't think I was old enough. I miss you so much Daddy.... Love the shirt child

“Daddy I was at a flea market like we use to do. Not the same one that we use to go to but still a flea market. Well I went into one of those inside booths. They had so many bullheads and they were beautiful I wanted to buy this one in particular it had a wolf's skin on it and was just amazing except it didn't have any horns, but Alexis freaked out she didn't want a skull in the house. But then I found this dream catcher with a bulls head with horns I bought it. It reminds me so much of you Daddy. I miss you every day. I really wish I could talk to you right now Alexis is having a hard time her best friend (cat) was attacked by a pitbull there wasn't anything I could do had to get him euthanized. Alexis is really having a hard time.. I miss you and love you.

“Daddy, things feel like they've fallen apart... I had one of those days where everything was falling apart. I called your phone knowing it wouldnt be answered. I called Teresa thinking maybe she would be able to talk it just seemed like she was too busy. Everyone has changed... I don't have anyone I can actually run too... I miss you daddy..... 10-23-16

“ Daddy, I really wish I could talk to you.... I really need you right now.... You were always who I ran to, and now I have no one.... It isn't fair these people have horrible parents, but they get to keep theirs.... You were a wonderful daddy and I couldn't keep you.... A girl sometimes really needs her daddy.... And daddy I need you... It's isn't fair there are so many shitty people in the world... Why take a good man, why take a hard worker, why take a man who'd take his shirt off his back for anyone and had done so often.... WHY?!?!? AND I CANT TALK RO ANYONE ABOUT how I feel because talking about you makes them upset when they aren't... Why am I the only one who becomes upset and misses you, when something small reminds me of you.
