I miss my sister so much, it's February 16th, 2023 and I think of you often. I remember how you would fix my hair when I was little, I still have a doll you gave me when I was small. I wish we could have had more time to do things sisters should do. I love you Darlene and always will 💕💕

“ I love my sister, I have missed her and will always remember how she always took care of me and the first time I met Steve I was 6 years old. I love him as much as my brother's and I am absolutely heartbroken that I don't have my big sister anymore. We may have drifted apart, but my heart has always been right there with her. I'll never forget how beautiful and smart she was and I'm at a loss for words because I should have been closer to her in later years. I always, always admired her intelligence, bravery, honesty, caring soul and how naturally beautiful she was. Darlene (doc) I love you with all.mybheartvand I will never be the same without you big sister
