“ Tomorrow will be a week since God called mama home every day I see something or hear something that makes me realize how blessed we were to have you, and still are, to have this big family and the support it offers at times like these Mama, did you see all the blooms in my yard I could swear you had been up all night the night before I got home sprinkling fairy dust on my flowers so they would all be blooming in riotous color for me to see when I stepped out into my yard I saw, and I wept, and I missed you that probably won't lessen any time soon, the missing, but I smiled too. Knowing you are not suffering any longer, but enjoying the beauty of God's heaven I got a taste of it right now in my blooms and birds you, my mama, are enjoying it in its full glory I thank you, for instilling in me the love of flowers and plants but most and foremost, for your faith which has carried me far in this life love you mama, but right now missing you more

“ My old friend, Lynda. My heart grieves with your heart and for your family as you lay sweet Mrs. Jean to rest. She took me into yall's home and treated me like her own every time I saw her. Many good memories of her pass through my mind and my heart; her sharp wit, her awesome cooking and her ability to tell it like it was, whether you wanted to hear it or not. Sending much love and healing light to you, Mr. Don and your brothers and sisters. Tammy Holt

“ I will forever remember all the good times with my precious loving aunt Jean. She was like a mom to me. I remember her teaching me to cook and make coffee and homemade bbq sauce. She was truly a angel on earth now a angel in heaven. Rest In Peace aunt Jean until we meet again. For soon Jesus is coming and we will all be together again.
