“ George and I were friends and "brothers in Christ" for over 50 years. I have nothing but good memories of him.

George had a lot of sayings but one of the most meaningful to me and my grandchildren was... "Every boy needs an "old man" in his life". My grandsons Chad and Colter, and my granddaughter Malory had the blessing of knowing him. We worked together and fished together and had fish fries together...he could even filet a bream, large or small...have you ever tried to do that...I have and it's hard to do.

He and his son Phillip helped me build a garage onto my house in about 2004. George said I cannot paint but I discovered that he was actually good at it before we finished.

George was an outstanding design engineer and Jacobs misses him, but he was a good small engine mechanic...even Slick Williams consulted with him...he was good at almost anything he tried to do...but best of all at trusting God through good times and hard times...he is one of my best friends and I'll miss him very much until we meet again...it's not over...we even had a "gang" called the Mystic Knights of the T-Square, George Hyslip, Pat Clemens, Lee Whitney, Adolphe Sterken, and myself...what a day of rejoicing it will be...
