“ I was very shocked and saddened to hear that my cousin Larry Blakely Glover passed so suddenly. I remember him as my counterpart cousin Larry Blakely during our early years as adolescents and teens growing up under Uncle Joe Blakely and later Aunt Ruth Blakely. I can remember when I would come to Nashville, Tennessee during the summer, Larry and David always go us in trouble for doing something that was not in the rules. I also remember at Uncle Joe's funeral, Larry saying that all of the first and second cousins needed to get together and be the family that Joseph, Felix, William and Elmo Blakely tried so hard to do all of those 4th of July celebrations in Nashville. We never did and now we have lost one of those cousins who so dearly wanted that to happen. I say to you my dear cousin, rest in peace and know that God makes no mistakes. You have left the mark in life that He intended for you to do, now your job in glory is to pray for those who have yet accepted Christ as their savior.

To Bonnie and Aunt Mable: Please know that Larry is Okay and has joined his father, brothers, aunts and uncles before him and they all are at peace. We all are going to have to meet our maker and hope that we will all be that great Blakely family that gather each year in Uncle Joe's back yard to fellowship and love each other. I will miss that big smile of Larry's and all of the times that we got in trouble. Nor will I forget all of the journeys we made from Durham, North Carolina to Nashville, Tennessee to be with our family. I will miss Larry, but he will always be in my memory and heart until we meet again.

Your cousin,
Patricia A. Blakely Jones
Durham, North Carolina
