“Wow...where do I start Mark?? When I first met you you were a mean rotten little obnoxious 11 yr old boy that was madly "in love" with an 18 yr old girl way to old for you lol She always used to tell you "Lil Mark I will make a deal with you...once you turn 18 if Im single I promise I will marry you." Well Ill be darned if on your 18th bday you were knocking on my door ready to go to the courthouse...lol I was already married so I couldn't marry you but we continued to be friends throughout the years..lost contact for awhile..then one day im standing there with my little Brother when he gets a call from you when you were in west TN...after that we were inseparable well at least via letters phone calls and visits..Then when you got home we were truly inseparable...Fortunately it turns out we made better friends so we stayed friends for awhile and then you met your wife and had babies..Best thing that happened to you...I was so happy for you..I just hate that I didn't get the chance to say goodbye...Love you like a fat kid loves cake... Cornbread...you'll forever live inside my heart
❤️❤️❤️Fly High

“ Cornbread was always there when someone he loved needed him. He loved his family more than words can say.. I'll never forget the first time I met him he was a little boy hanging out in the village him and his friends would come do chores for some money he didn't care if we traded work for food or something his lil sis Mandy needed he made sure she had.. On Friday I would order pizza for him and her he would walk down to my apt and say ma I know it was you.. Thank you I would say now Jr and smile slip him a ten he was humble.. Even when he was grown he would work his tail off for his family.. For Family is all he had.. And if you was a friend then you to became family..

“ May you rest in peace Mark! You live on through your children and they all shine so bright with the love you gave them! You are such a beautiful, amazing angel that Heaven has gained, fly high, this is now your time! There will never be a day that your not remembered, or a memory forgotten, you are loved and missed by so many! My love shall be with you!
