“ The best and most caring teacher I ever had. The first teacher to help me feel good about myself and my possibilities. I remember coming after lunch break and lying our heads on the desk while she read to us. The book I best remember took months: “In the Footsteps of Marco Polo.”

“ In the middle of my third grade year in 1971 Farrar Elementary School was finished. We transferred from South Jackson to Farrar which was very exciting because it had carpet, air conditioning and had no walls except for the areas where the teachers had their desks. I had Miss Anderton as a teacher in 6th grade and I really did enjoy her teaching. She was very nice. She will be greatly missed and was a very special part of my life. God bless her family and prayers I send your way. Mary Lynn Nee Felts.

“ Sorry to see of Miss Anderton's passing...her influence is felt by all of the children (and later adults) that she taught through the years. I was in her 6th grade class at South Jackson in the mid 60s and know how much teaching meant to her.

“ I am so saddened by the passing of Ms. Opal. She and I worked together at the old West Middle School. She loved education with a passion and devoted her whole self to it. To a dear friend I say rest now after all of your suffering. In loving memory, Mike Robison
