Patsy was a loving mother, fun grandmother and a caring friend to many. She truly enjoyed meeting and spending time with old friends and new ones. She was a dedicated lifelong volunteer for many different organizations, and a veteran of the United States Navy. We owe her a great debt of gratitude for her service. She enjoyed crafting with her late husband Marion and they both belonged to Foothills Craft Shop in Manchester. Her survivors include her son, Neil Riley of Tullahoma, Tennessee, daughter, Dale (Louis) Deflice of Quaker Hill, Connecticut, brother, Michael (Rita) Coker of Gasburg, Virginia, sister, Janice Tyson of Wilson, North Carolina, and two grandchildren, Sam and Max Deflice.

“ I have just learned of Patsy Ann Coker Riley's passing. I write to express my condolences to her surviving family members. Patsy and I were great friends during our high school years. She was one of the most personable people I have ever known. I have no doubt that her effervescent personality and ready smile stayed with her to the end. I loved Patsy greatly and I still do. May God Bless all the family members she has left behind. Jim Shirley
