“ After a year of battling cancer and watching his dad and sister die of the same disease and ultimately himself, I am so grateful for his timely encouragement, weekly calls, updates, prayers, hugs, kisses, gift cards, kind words. Love and laughter that cheered me up on difficult days. That's just a snip it of life. He was an awesome dad and I am blessed to have had him in my life. I will miss laughing till my belly hurts, colorful hellos, enjoying and mentoring my kids, being almost always right. Hard to let go of daddy's that's for sure. Feels like your heart has been crushed in a million pieces. I hope today he is kicked back and feasting and exploring with my sister, grandma, aunt & uncle, grandpa & others who have gone before him. Love you daddy!

I love you Daddy, I picked up the phone to call you and it hit me They don't have cell phones in heaven !! So That's what I miss most our morning talks and well our afternoon ones too and of course our Sunday night talks. I'm not sure how my heart will heal but I know you will always be with me. Whit Whit prayed for you today that your having a good time and that your smiling. She said she missed that the most. We all love and miss you so much and were so blessed to have you as long as we did. But selfishly we always want one more hug or one more I love you. I'm do glad your no longer in pain and on your heavenly journey !
