“ Mike was a maker before the term became so popular. He made beautiful art, he made functional items, he made furniture, he made gardens grow, he made people laugh, he made friends, and he made the world a more beautiful place. Mike was a light who will be missed by many. RIP dear Mike.

“ I remember mike staying late after work (lots of times) cutting wood scraps into bundles and taking them to the homeless encampment so they could stay warm when it was cold outside, I remember running into mike at a convenience store early on the morning and him telling me that he would go to several of them before work and ask the Krispy Kreme delivery guy if he could have the old donut's that he was going to throw away, and mike would gather them all up and take them to the homeless. I remember mike's outstanding sense of humor and his "can do" attitude to whatever project you put in front of him. I remember what a very hard worker he was, I worked right behind him once we moved back to the main Sledgecraft factory and I knew without a doubt that whatever question/problem I had with anything woodworking I could ask Mike and he could help me. I remember a very kind, generous, caring man....I remember my friend Mike.

Kelley. Since the first time I met you and Mike I noticed his smile and the way he looked at you. His love for you had shown through his face. When I would run into Mike at yard sale, rummage sale, store wherever and I would ask what's Kelley doing he would smile that big ole smile and tell me what you were doing. Yes, he was and always will be your soulmate Mike was a great man of many talents. Fly high my friend. Love ya Kelley. Your friend . Darlene

I remember Mike with such fondness every time I walk up and down my stairs. I happened to mention to him that I had missed a step one time and fallen and twisted my ankle. He was very upset and scolded me and told me I needed a light. I told him there was a light but I hadn't turned it on. The next morning, I came into the office and there was a motion sensor light sitting on my desk. He told me I could sit it on the steps and it would put off just enough light to see without being too bright. It was such a sweet gesture, but that was Mike. I remember him talking about Kelley and their fishing trips, and most recently, their anniversary. Kelly, he beamed with pride every time he spoke of you. He was a kind, generous and thoughtful man. The world has truly lost a great one.

Mike was not only one of the finest craftsmen I've had to pleasure to work with over the years, but he was an even finer person. You will be missed my friend. Blessings to your wonderful wife whom I know you loved so much.
