“ I just have no words, but I will try to write what's in my heart. She literally helped save so many lives, including mine. She taught me so many things as a child & young adult that I will carry with me forever. Always so full of Joy & laughter. I'll never forget the smile she shared so freely with everyone. That's how I will always see her when I think of her. She gave of herself freely to so many broken & hurting people in this world. Her life wasn't always easy but her desire was that none should be lost & have the same Hope she carried in her own soul. Rest now daughter of Zion. May all the seeds you have sown bring a mighty harvest. Thank you, Love you Always & Forever, Angie

“ My name is Laura. I met Roxy when my chosen sister Frances went into Waters of Winchester. Roxy & Frances became GREAT roommates. As time passed by their love grew more & more. It was like they were blood sisters. Never one without the other one. All the staff knew you just couldn't have one without the other one involved. I as well grew to love Roxy. She had a charm & personality that would capture your interest. And sometimes when she smiled at me it was so sweet & loving. Especially when I had candy or coke in my hand for her. We are so thankful for the Lord allowing our paths to cross with Roxy & her loving devoted daughter Lisa. Now Roxy can lay in peace. We love you both.
