“ I loved my dad so so much! Now I don't have many memories of us together doing stuff as a family even after my brother was born whom I am so glad is also a jr. that have our dads name it makes him feel very important in everyone's life. Even tho it's been a very long time (7 years) it just blows my mind how one person died can f*ck up everyone's life for years at most not just my and my mom had a hard time coping with it but everyone who had a relationship with my father because he was one guy that made you smile and had a smile you will never forget. My mom went down a really bad road for a couple years after the passing but I am so so proud of how far she has come sense then. Thank you all for the love and support!
